Nguema is a talented player with great athletic skills, very good defender and great penetrator inside. He was born in Spain to Equatorial Guinean parents - his father being a diplomat. As a result, he has dual citizenship with Spain and Equatorial Guinea.

Nguema has played with several different Spanish clubs in the past, most notably starting his career with Real Madrid, where he obtained the 2006–07 ULEB Cup and the 2006–07 ACB season. Later, he played for CB Estudiantes, Obradoiro CAB and Cáceres Ciudad del Baloncesto.

He also played in Equatorial Guinea, the original country of his family, for Malabo Kings and The Panthers, and in 2017 he played for Cañeros del Este of Dominican top division Liga Nacional de Baloncesto.

He has competed for Spain through multiple youth national teams, and helped the team win the bronze medal at the 2006 FIBA Europe Under-18 Championship. He also participated at the 2007 FIBA Under-19 World Championship.
